

The Freedom Seekers' Manifesto

Seeking freedom is a daily decision.

Life happens.

Things change.

But I can always choose to feel free.

This is my life.

It's up to me.

The good and the bad all passes. I know that nothing lasts forever.

I am grateful for the beauty and will breathe through the pain.

I get to choose who I fly with, or whether I fly alone. I get to choose how I spend my days, and whether I soak up the moments of those days.

I recognize that freedom seeking is a lifelong quest, and I'm in it for the long haul. It's an ongoing journey of awakening to what really matters, in the beauty and the dust. To what we can do, and to what we must. It's an adventure. It's an opportunity.

And I take it on with a brave and committed heart.

Whatever happens I will keep on going, keep on flying, for that's where freedom lies.

Life is wild and glorious and hard and beautiful. We Freedom Seekers must keep choosing freedom with every decision, every detail, every dollar, every day. Because it's the experience of it all that adds up to this thing called life.

I choose freedom. I will fly free.
